Dance Diary— Dancing News

Finding Dances to Attend

With this Newsletter I have listed all dance events I could find, listed either on the SCD Events in Scotland website <https://www.scotdancediary.co.uk/>, individual Branch & Club websites or programmes emailed to me from individual Branches (thank you). Those with no programme details have links you can use to obtain programmes published nearer the event time.

I feel this is necessary as many dance organisers are not submitting their events to the current Society approved website. This makes it difficult for dancers trying to find out which dances are taking place in a particular area or date.

As for the Society's new website, <https://rscds.org/> let's just say it is a "work in progress" and we await the day when dancers can actually find anything on it. e.g. looking for dances on a date you know dances are taking place returns "No Events".

Dances are not listed as a search factor. Surely the least that should happen in the meantime is a link to the Events in Scotland website; <https://www.scotdancediary.co.uk/index.php>

Most organisers now publish their programmes and cribs on the Strathspey Server. It takes me considerable time typing these into this Newsletter. Previously organisers sent me an email with their programmes which I could copy and paste. If I printed the event details with out the programmes but included the link to the programme on the server would that be sufficient for dancers? You could just click on the link to get your crib.

Let me know what you think of this idea. scd@dancediary.info

Scottish Country Dancer magazine

The Scottish Country Dancer magazine, originally provided free in paper form to Members, will change from a paper copy to electronic format from this year. Those members who wish, however, can still receive a paper copy by paying an extra £6 per year with their annual subscription. (£3 extra subscription for this first year only). Membership fees for 2026-2027 are set at £30 per adult and you will also receive the new Digital copy of the magazine. Speak to your Branch Membership Secretary if you wish to receive the paper copy as well.

Weekend Schools

For many dancers a highlight of the year was attending Branch "Weekend Schools" hosted by numerous Branches throughout the country. These events normally had 2 evening dances with one or two classes on one of the days. Dancers often stayed on for an extra day or two and this made the event a mini-holiday. With Branch membership numbers gradually reducing, the remaining members have been finding there are now too few members willing to share the burden of organising these weekends. Last year saw more Branches changing to a Day or half day school instead. The attraction of the 'long weekend' is no longer. Looking at the Day School Diary in the latest edition of the Society magazine reveals almost all these events are abroad apart from one or two in England and Belfast and a couple in Scotland.

MiniCrib

Do you have the latest version of "MiniCrib"? Version 36_06 (August 2026) is the one you need - available for download from <https://www.minicrib.org.uk/>
